Junction City has within her limits a number of remarkably old citizens. Mrs. Mahala McGinnis is 99 and frequently walks to Danville and back home the same day. Her grandson informed the Advocate that Mrs. McGinnis had occasion to visit Danville recently, and, in order to save train fare and to take the exercise, walked and somewhere on the way lost her pocket book containing all her money. Mr. Yates is another old citizen, being in the 95th year of his age. Capt. Ben McGraw's father is 82, Mr. James Vandivier, 74, Mr. Jarboe, 74, and Mr. Ed Clarkson, 78.—Advocate.

A Danville dispatch says: M. C. Turpin, associated with the Freeman Furniture Company of this city, dropped into Hick Woods' "blind tiger" on Lebanon street, the other night to get a glass of beer. As he was leaving the premises a full size brick came whizzing through the air and struck Turpin on the head, cutting his left ear off and knocking him senseless. After regaining consciousness he reported the matter at police headquarters and Officers Helm and Cox raided the dive and arrested Wood and another Negro, who were fined on the charge of selling liquor illegally. No clue to the party who waylaid Turpin has been found, but the officers are working on the case. The victim of the brick is still suffering severe pain.

Democratic nominee for assessor, is another Southern End of Lincoln man, who is a runner from away back. The fact that he beat such a good field of sprinters for the nomination will scare off opposition from the enemy, but that matters very little for he can beat the best of them and give them several points in the game. As deputy sheriff for several years Mr. Reynolds made an excellent officer and that he will make just as good a one as assessor we have no reason to doubt. A man of high morals, a gentleman in all the word implies, there is not a more popular citizen in Lincoln county than "Bud" Reynolds and his friends will show their good feeling for him by rallying to his support in the November election. He has done good work for the party in the Wayneburg precinct, where he has voted all of his life, and is a power there. His majority there in March last was 152, which shows to some extent how Mr. Reynolds stands where he is best known.

Our leading business men here think we are now sure of the Southern Railway Extension passing along the route now under consideration, and which runs just South of town. The surveyors have moved their camps further to the Southeast, where they are still hard at work. CURE FOR CHOLERA INFANTUM—NEVER KNOWN TO FAIL.

During last may an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. In two days' time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail. Mrs. Curtis Baker, Bookwalter, Ohio. Is a Candidate for Railroad Commissioner for the 3d District, subject to the will of the democracy.

MR. BRYAN doesn't belong to the tin horn brigade, but the following from his Commoner shows that he is not averse to blowing his own horn just a little: It was very gratifying to meet in every State visited on my recent trip, readers of The Commoner, and to learn from them that the paper is giving satisfaction. As has been said before, the paper does not attempt to give all the general news, but it does intend to keep its readers informed as to important political events and to supply them with arguments which will enable them to defend democratic principles and policies. There are in every community those who do their own thinking and who fortify themselves to discuss political issues as they arise. To such—no matter to what party they belong—The Commoner will be useful.

It is mighty hard for Ex-Gov. Bradley to keep out of politics. He said he was going to Louisville for the sole purpose of practicing law, but the following will show that he is already dabbling in the political pot: Former Gov. Bradley advised Mr. James F. Grinstead not to accept the republican nomination for mayor. Mr. Bradley says no honest man could accept the nomination, and that the republicans in Louisville can not win until Collector Sapp's present power is taken from him.

THE dispatches say that Gov. Durbin, of Indiana, honored a requisition from Gov. Beckham for two murderers who had fled to that State. The dispatch doesn't add that the requisitions were for Taylor and Finley, but the democracy and decency of Kentucky would have been gratified to have read such a statement and at the same time know there was no doubt about the truthfulness of it.

BOOKER REED went on the war path at Louisville Saturday and got a head put on him by John Boro, a Sapp supporter. The worst feature of the matter is that afterwards when Reed cavorted around the streets with a pistol, pretending to be on the hunt for Boro the police, whom he defied, failed to arrest him. He is president of the board of aldermen and a law unto himself.

SENATOR MCLAURIN, of South Carolina, has very justly been ruled out of the democratic party of that State because he misrepresents his constituency by affiliating with and voting for the measures of the republicans. The State democratic executive committee took such action and demanded that MCLAURIN tender his resignation immediately.

GRINSTEAD, nominated by the Sapp primary in Louisville, declines to accept it and says he will not be a candidate before the delegate convention called by the same authority, which has declared the primary off. The rads are in a huddle of a fix in Louisville as well as elsewhere.

THE old maids of Mercer county, Pa., have published statistics, showing that married men live five to 15 years longer than single men. This may or may not be true, but we rather incline to the explanation of the minstrel, who said: "They don't live longer. It just seems longer."

POLITICAL.

Allen E. Smith was elected secretary of the State election commission at the meeting held in Frankfort.

In the electoral college of 1904 there will be 476 members, or 15 more than constituted the college in 1900.

The collections on account of the war revenue act during the period from June 13, 1898, to June 30, 1901, amounted to $318,790,591.

Gov. Durbin, of Indiana, will order the State Board of Charities to make an investigation of the Marion county "Insanity Trust."

A woman's suffrage resolution was introduced in the Virginia Constitutional Convention.

George D. Herron, of Grinnell, Ia., was elected temporary chairman by the Socialist convention at Indianapolis.

Hon. Gerald T. Finn, of Franklin, is looming up on the horizon as one of the probabilities as the successor to the late Judge I. H. Goodnight.

Editor-Collector Sam Roberts has fired another broadside at Collector-Chairman Sapp, and has gone on to Canton to attempt another flank movement.

The South Carolina Democratic State Executive Committee adopted a resolution reading Senator McLaurin out of the democratic party. Senator Tillman supported the resolution.

Chief Justice Leander J. Monks, of the Indiana supreme court, is said to have been chosen by Senator Fairbanks to succeed the late Judge Woods on the United States circuit bench for the district composed of Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Capt. A. N. Bentley proved himself a wise man, when he failed to put up his money and enter the primary. The republicans of this county would not have nominated him, and his efforts for the place would have been useless.—Mt. Vernon Signal.

The custom-house inspectors claim they have not received official notification of the existence of free trade between this country and Porto Rico, and they confiscated cigars and cigarettes belonging to passengers who arrived at Brooklyn from San Juan on the steamship Ponce.

Editor E. C. Walton has done the handsome thing by the nominees on the democratic ticket by publishing a nice write-up along with a good likeness of each of the candidates. This is certainly nice in Bro. Walton and is doubtless appreciated by the nominees.—Danville News.

Five hundred republicans met at Music Hall, Louisville, Friday night, to denounce Charles E. Sapp and to protest against the primary of July 16. P. Booker Reed presided and made the first of a series of strong speeches. Three sets of resolutions against Sapp and all his works were adopted.

An effort may be made to have the next Legislature amend the laws governing the charitable institutions of the State in order to place them under the management of a paid commission composed of three or five members, instead of being under the various boards of commissioners who are now in control of these institutions.

THE Lt. Severance Post, No. 26, will hold their annual reunion at Woodstock, Aug. 17. A good list of speakers are promised and a general good time may be expected by all who attend.

REMEMBER the Danville fair next week. Go the first day and you'll go the balance. The attractions there this year excel any ever offered outside of the cities. Write to Secretary H. C. Bright for a catalogue.

R. A. GOOD, of Lexington, writes that our Middleburg correspondent, Clarence Coleman, is mistaken about the present drouth in Casey being the worst in the recollection of the oldest inhabitants. He says that in 1872 it did not rain from July 4 to Sept. 1, when it must have been much dryer than now.

J. Carroll Bailey will have only two horses at the Hustonville fair, but both of them are bread-winners.

The Hope Rescue Mission has bought the old Brown Hotel building on Jefferson Street near Eighth, Louisville, from the Fidelity Trust and Safety Vault Company. It will be properly equipped and the work will be pushed.

The South Baptist District Association will hold its 99th annual conference at the Doctor's Fork church, near Perryville, August 20 and 21. Four counties are comprised in the district—Lincoln, Garrard, Mercer and Boyle. About 200 regular delegates will attend.

From Bryan's Commoner.

The protracted drouth clearly shows that some men never think of praying until they get into trouble.

Salisbury and Chamberlain insist that war in South Africa is over, but British agents are still scouring Missouri for mules.

The steel trust should treat with the striking steel workers. It might result in ending a drouth that threatens to dry up all the water in steel trust stocks.

Constant Reader.—No the republican party does not assume responsibility for the drouth; it claims credit for every thing good but blames Providence for everything bad.

Let the democrats of Ohio vote the ticket and then begin the next day after the election to organize the Congressional districts so that it will not be possible for a corporation democrat to secure a nomination.

MATRIMONIAL.

M. F. Kidd, aged 22, and Miss Frankie Jane Griffiths, 17, were married at Nathan Singleton's Sunday.

THE Hustonville Fair begins tomorrow and continues over Friday, as most of us know. There is every assurance that the exhibition will be a success and every citizen of Lincoln county should help make it such by going and seeing that his neighbors go. What interests and advances our West End friends is helpful to us and we should be as anxious to see them successful in their enterprises as we are in our own.

IN THE PEN AT LAST.—Our old friend, Mr. L. L. Dawson, writes that he has broken in the penitentiary at last, but sends this clipping from the Ash Grove, Mo., Commonwealth, which explains the matter: "L. L. Dawson, of this vicinity, has secured a good job in the State penitentiary. He left for Jefferson City last Monday in company with the editor of this paper. He was assigned to guard duty in one of the large shoe factories. Warden Woolridge will not have a better or a more efficient man in his service than Mr. Dawson, and his friends in this vicinity will be glad to hear of his good luck."

ROSSELL.—After a long and useful life, Mr. Lewis Rossell passed into the great beyond Friday morning, aged 84. He had been in very bad health for months and death must have been a sweet relief to the fine old gentleman. Mr. Rossell was born in Burlington county, New Jersey, and was married to Mrs. Mary J. Peyton, who survives him, in November of 1858. They settled on a farm near Peyton's Well soon after they married and where they had happily lived since. Two children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Rossell, William S. Rossell, deceased, and Mrs. A. E. Gibbons, of Danville. The old gentleman worshipped his children and was very proud of his five step-children, frequently remarking that they had never given him an unkind word. The step-children are Mesdames J. M. Sibold, W. T. Smith, S. P. Bobbitt and Messrs. G. A. and Ed Peyton. "Uncle Lewis," as he was affectionately called, was a most interesting man, a good talker and a congenial gentleman. He had few, if any enemies and many eyes grew damp with tears when it was made known that he was no more. A good citizen, affectionate husband and indulgent father has gone to his reward, let his splendid example be emulated. Rev. J. W. Hagin preached a most fitting funeral sermon Saturday morning, after which all that was mortal of "Uncle Lewis" Rossell was laid to rest in Buffalo cemetery.

THE L. & N. offers another $1.50 round-trip rate to Cincinnati Sunday Twelve hours in the city.

FOR SALE OR RENT.—Residence on Upper Main, diagonally opposite the College. Inquire of E. C. Walton.

MONEY.—Trustee of the Jury Fund G. L. Penny tells us that money to pay jurors for the June term of court is in his hands.

THE first umbrella repairer that has been in town for months was seen walking leisurely in about the time the rain began this morning.

WITH ladies free at the Hustonville fair tomorrow, and the many attractions, including a game of ball between Hustonville and Harrodsburg, a record-breaking crowd should, and likely will be there.

IF you have any business with the INTERIOR JOURNAL during the Hustonville fair this week call at Secretary W. D. Hocker's office, where you will find a representative of this paper, who will be glad to wait on you.

KILLED.—Capt. R. A. Bibb, only brother of Mrs. Samuel M. Owens, fell from his train between Bristol, Tenn., and the Cranberry Coal Mines, and was mangled beyond recognition. He was 45 years old and left besides a wife five little children.

LEG BROKEN.—While driving in Hardin county the other day Joe E. Rout, of this place, met with a painful accident. He was thrown from his buggy and his left ankle shattered. He is now at his father's here, where he is resting as well as could be expected.

FOR swearing on the street Speedy Thurmond and Will Bailey were fined $2.50 in Judge Carson's court. Charlie Peyton, Will Lee, Hood Givens and Dick Skinner caught a $5 fine each for shooting craps. Willie Hansford, also colored, was mulcted $5 for tearing a silk waist off of a daughter of Uncle Billy Caldwell.

THE Journal acknowledges the receipt of a complimentary ticket to the Hustonville fair July 31, Aug. 1-2. Now if Dr. Alcorn, Billy Williams, Dr. Tom Bohon, Dr. Brown, Cashier Hocker and a few more capitalists in and around town will guarantee the ice water and lunch, Hustonville is in line for a write-up that will insure an eternal exemption from epidemic diseases, cholera infantum and bankruptcy, as well as the peaceful retention of its honored name—the postoffice department to the contrary notwithstanding. —F. J. Campbell in Somerset Journal.

STANFORD FEMALE COLLEGE.—Extensive improvements are being made at the college building under the supervision of President Pinkerton. The Boarding Hall is being freshly painted and papered, a modern, up-to-date bath room is being fitted up and when newly furnished throughout, the hall, already equipped with electric lights, will be as comfortable a home for school girls as any in the State. The Recitation and Study Hall also is being repaired and altered and the new Primary and Kindergarten rooms on the second floor, being well lighted, ventilated and furnished with all needed appliances, will be as attractive and comfortable for college girls as can be found anywhere. President Pinkerton's idea in this matter, it seems to us is the correct one, that school rooms ought to be not only convenient and comfortable, but attractive also, and he seems to be carrying out this idea in the repairs now going on at the college, as far as the character of the building and the funds at his disposal will permit. And now with such a building in our midst and with the school in charge of an able and experienced corps of teachers, the college ought to command cordial support and patronage of this entire community. There is no good reason why any one should send his daughter away from Stanford to be educated. All our people, our business men especially, ought to be able to see, without argument, that a liberal home patronage is essential to the success of the school. If we will not patronize our own schools we certainly can not expect others to do so, while on the other hand, a large local patronage will attract pupils from abroad, bring well-to-do people to our town to become citizens and insure in many ways to the happiness and prosperity of our entire community.

ORANGES, lemons, bananas, crackers, cakes, deviled ham, chip beef, &c. All fresh. Higgins & McKinney.

LIGHTNING killed a valuable cow for Mr. J. B. Mershon last night. She was standing under a sugar tree.

BOYS, this is the last week of the cut price sale on shoes. Hurry if you want a pair; they are going fast. J. P. Jones.

THE young people are looking forward to Friday night when the Stanford Hop Club will entertain in its usual handsome manner. Saxton's orchestra will furnish the music.

DON'T fail to get an INTERIOR JOURNAL each day of the fair at Hustonville. Messrs. Keller and Alverson are going to make it a feature of fair week, and you can't afford to miss a copy of it.

A LIGHT rain fell, beginning at about 2 o'clock this morning, but the clouds are thin and it is feared that not enough is coming this time to help very materially. A clod-soaker and a river-riser is what we need just now.

THE L. & N. will sell round-trip tickets to the Cynthiana Fair, July 31, Aug. 1, 2, 3, valid after 4th, at one fare. It will sell at the same rate to Louisville, Aug. 2 and 3, valid after 5th, on account of the colored fair, and to Winchester fair, Aug. 6 to 9, same rate.

HURT IN WRECK.—James P. Harper, of Hustonville, was considerably hurt in a wreck on the Southern Railroad while nearing Asheville, on his return from Salisbury, N. C. The train was derailed and the engineer and fireman were killed. Mr. Harper got off with a few cuts and bruises and is very thankful matters are not worse. He was held an hour or more in his car which turned over.

O'Hair, I will sell at public auction, Saturday, August 17, on the premises, 3 miles east of Stanford, the personality consisting of four good cows and calves, also two young horses, 3 and 5 years old, one wagon, one road cart, one set blacksmith tools, household and kitchen furniture and other things too numerous to mention.
